

FRANTISEK AMBRUS

Co-Producer

- CV -

Frantisek Ambrus is the CEO and executive producer of Puppetworks Animation Studios. After graduating in 2002 with a degree in industrial design from the Slovakian University of Technology, he spent 10 years as a 3D artist in both game development and animation. In 2008, he turned his passion towards establishing his own studio and since then, teams he led have delivered many high-end commercials, game trailers and animation projects for some of the most prominent brands and IPs in the world. He was also an executive producer for the Kingsglaive: Final Fantasy XV feature movie where Puppetworks delivered 433 shots from previz to final render. Most recently, he has been co-producing Another Day of Life, an art-house movie with a 2017 release as well as seeking financing and co-production partners for other ambitious projects.
